LIQUOR MEN ANGRY.

Those Broken Pledges of Democrats in the Legislature.

NO MORE MONEY OR HELP FOR THEM.

Manager Wall, However, Was Wrongfully Accused of Getting Their Cash Under Misrepresentation—Held Responsible for Influencing Members.

MILWAUKEE, June.—Members of the anti-prohibition society unite in denouncing Boss Wall because pledges made by democratic assemblymen as to the local option law were broken.
Their threats throw much light on the last campaign.

"Not one of these democrats will ever get a cent of our money again, and if any of them ever runs for office again, he will feel the weight of our influence," said an officer of the wholesale liquor dealers association, and a number of the anti-prohibition society added that their names would all be posted at the coming meeting of the society at Janesville.

Mr. Wall emphatically denied that he had received any money from those societies or had asked for any with the pledge that the party would repeal the obnoxious law. The statement that he had made on the authority of the anti-prohibition society who, it seems, in his zeal was not very exact in his statements. Mr.
Wall is therefore entirely relieved from the imputation that he received any money from the liquor men under misrepresentation. The explanation of the feeling against him among the liquor men is that they think the members pledged to their interest were influenced by him to change their minds. When the time came they broke their pledges.

ILLINOIS.

The House Passes the Bill Appropriating $750,000 for the World's Fair, but the Senate Refuses to Concur.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 10.—The world's fair bill, as amended, passed the house by a vote of 103 to 81. The bill was at once sent over to the senate and that body refused to concur in the house amendments making the appropriation $750,000 and regulating labor questions. The vote on concurrence was a party division, with one exception on each side. A conference committee was appointed.

The house ordered the senate 7 per cent interest bill to a third reading after rejecting an amendment to make the rate 6 instead of 7 per cent. The senate bill appropriating $1,000 per annum to the eye and ear infirmity at Chicago was sent to a third reading. The house also passed the bill appropriating $150,- 000 for additions to the reform school at Pontiac, which is hereafter to be known as the state reformatory, and to which are to be sent all youthful offenders under the age of 21 years instead of to the penitentiary. A motion to reconsider was defeated.

In the afternoon the house took up the bill making appropriation of $350,- 000 for the erection of a new insane asylum. The institution is to be located west of the Illinois river, to accommodate 800 patients, and to be under the control of the homeopathic school of medicine. The fight continued until the end of the session, the final result being the practical killing of the measure.

The senate passed the bill providing that only registered voters can vote, and striking out the provision in the law allowing persons to vote on affidavit. It also passed the bill providing for a general levy for state purposes of $2,500,000 per annum, including the school fund.

At the afternoon session of the senate Senator Crawford called up the Burns-Thiele bill which provides for the amendment of the registration law so that voters may register at the election commissioners' office at any time within fifteen days of election.
The bill was read a third time and passed. The senate concurred in the joint resolution instructing the Illinois delegation in congress to support a constitutional amendment for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people.

MICHIGAN.

The House Refuses to Punish a Reporter for Contempt.

LANSING, Mich., June 10.—The Detroit newspaper correspondent, W. C.
Graves, who refused to answer the questions asked him by the committee appointed to investigate the charges of bribery against Representatives Munthe and Doyle, was arrested Tuesday night by order of the house for contempt. In attempting to purge himself the correspondent claimed the constitutional right of refusing to answer questions that would criminate himself. The house spent the entire evening in discussing the matter.
A resolution was offered directing that Graves be imprisoned until the end of the session. This was lost by a tie vote, and the matter ended there, this amounting to a discharge of the prisoner. The house has passed the senate bill which repeals the special charter under which the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad has operated for nearly forty years. The company has fought the bill for several sessions on account of the heavy increase in taxation which would follow placing the line under the general railroad law, but the present senate and house passed the bill unanimously.
The senate has passed the bill appropriating $50,000 for the state prison at Jackson.

Shot and Killed the Postmaster.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 10.—B. M.
Clark, postmaster of Old Jefferson, was shot and killed by an unknown assassin as he was leaving the residence of Miss Susie Wade, where he had been making a call, Sunday night. No motive for the deed has yet been discovered, but sensational developments are expected.

Crack Shots at St. Louis.
St. Louis, June 10.—Sharpshooters from all over the United States to the number of 2,000 opened their tournament by a grand parade previous to taking a train for Creve Coeur lake, a pleasure resort 30 miles from St. Louis, where the shoot takes place.

A Freacher's Downfall.
CLEVELAND, O., June 10.—Rev. John
S. Ray was sentenced at Wooster, O., Tuesday to two years.

REV. ALBRECHT TO LEAVE SOON.

His Farewell Sermon at St. Paul's To Be Preached Sunday, June 11.

Rev. Mr. J. F. Albrecht will preach his last sermon in Janesville at St. Paul's church on Sunday, June 21, after which he will leave for Chicago, where he will visit a few days preparatory to taking up his labors as pastor of a Lutheran church at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

For a few days St. Paul's church will be without a pastor. Rev. John Koerner, the new pastor, will remain at Helenville until July 5, on which day he will take charge of the pastorate and preach his first sermon.

THE LAST HONORS.

They Are Being Paid Canada's Dead Premier.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 10.—The body of Sir John Macdonald now lies in state in the senate chamber. Since 10 o'clock Tuesday morning there has been a perfect jam about the main entrance.
At 5 a. m. a private funeral service was conducted at the Elmside. An hour later the remains were borne to the state chamber by six members of the dominion police. At 10 o'clock the senate doors were thrown open. Lord Stanley, accompanied by his staff, was the first to enter. Next came the members of the cabinet, senators and members of parliament.
Thousands of ladies paid their last tribute to the late premier. Relays of members of parliament are on duty at the bier.

Senator John Abbott, of Montreal, a prominent shareholder in the Canadian Pacific railway, will be called upon in a few days by the governor general, Lord Stanley, to succeed Sir John Macdonald as premier. Sir John Thompson, minister of justice, is admitted to be the ablest man in parliament, but he is a Roman Catholic and a representative of a Nova Scotia constituency, and could never command a majority of the government supporters from Ontario.

The dissensions among the members of the cabinet which Sir John Macdonald left behind him make it inevitable that any arrangement which may be made to lead until the close of the present session, which will be rushed through, with Senator Abbott as premier. After the session is ended Sir Charles Tupper, the high commissioner representing the dominion of Canada at London, will return to Ottawa and take the premiership.
The cabinet will then be reconstituted.

Sir Charles has to be in Washington in October to take part in the conferences with the United States government representatives on the questions of international trade relations, the fishery disputes, the Behring sea controversy, and the other matters which will then be discussed.
The government is now preparing new pending settlement. He is now attending the postal congress at Vienna. The sooner he returns the better his chance will be of being elected for Kingston. Sir John Macdonald's old constituency. Meanwhile Senator Abbott will be the provisional head of the government for the purposes of the present session.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 10.—Ten thousand persons will probably be in line Thursday at Sir John Macdonald's funeral. Seventeen societies with three bands will precede the hearse.
The grave will be walled with limestone, bolted and riveted and covered with huge flags, so that there can be no possibility of desecrators doing any work toward the removal of the body with any rapidity. Besides this strong guard will watch for the next six months. The city is already filling up for the great and solemn event.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Two German Soldiers Fall Victims to the Deadly Thunderbolt While on Parade in the Emperor's Presence.

BREMEN, June 10.—Military and other circles here and elsewhere are discussing a strange and fatal accident which occurred at the Templehof at 9 o'clock
a. m. in the presence of the emperor.
From dispatches received here, it seems that a party of grenadiers were being exercised by the emperor at morning drill on the parade ground. While the men were being put through their exercises a vivid flash of lightning, followed by a deafening thunder clap, startled and half-blinded the men on parade, and hurled a number of them to the ground. When the men who had not been struck by the electric fluid had sufficiently recovered their presence of mind they went to the assistance of their stricken comrades, and it was found that the officer in command, Capt. Von Quast and three soldiers were insensible. Two of the latter died almost immediately afterward, and Capt. Von Quast and the other soldier who was struck, were dangerously injured. A horse was also killed. It is supposed that the rifle barrels and bayonets of the soldiers attracted the electricity which caused such fatal results.

Railway Employees Meet.

PORT WYNE, Ind., June 10.—It is estimated that fully 2,500 strangers are in the city attending the convention of railway employees. The convention is composed of the following orders: Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Telegraphers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Switchmen's Mutual Aid association and Brotherhood of Train-men. The object of the meeting is the discussion of matters of vital importance to the members of the different orders.

Suicide of a Blind Farmer.
DIXON, Ill., June 10.—Thomas Smith, a blind farmer living about 2½ miles from this city, committed suicide in front of the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon. No cause is given for the deed. He was in good circumstances and was about 50 years old. He leaves a wife. He was sitting in a buggy talking to a friend when he deliberately drew a revolver and sent a bullet through his temple.

Death of a Well-Known Actor.
New York, June 10.—Harry Edwards, the well-known actor, died in this city Tuesday morning. He had been sick for two months and had been gradually failing, the immediate cause of death being heart failure, due to dropsy.

ried to his art.

ioned garret.

JERRY IN LA CROSSE

He Talks So Late He Misses the Janesville Train.

HIS NEW YORK SPEECH REPEATED.

L. L. Polk Insists That in the South Alliance Men Organize in the Face of Democratic Opponents Armed with Shot Guns—No Cleveland.

LA CROSSE, June 10.—It was almost midnight before Congressman Simpson finished his talk to the State farmers' alliance. So late was it, in fact, that the night train for Janesville had left, and the sickless Kansan was obliged to stay over. Simpson was a bright and taking speaker, in substance that given in New York at the Cooper institute. He made specific charges against the economic system of the government, and pointed out that the average increase of wealth of the western country was not enough to pay the interest on the mortgage indebtedness. Speaking of the sub-treasury plan, he said the alliance was not stuck on it, but had waited in vain for somebody else to propose a better plan. He said this plan was in operation as to silver, also as to bonds, also as to whisky. The silver millionaires can deposit silver in the treasury and get 20 cents on the dollar more than its value. The bond-holder can deposit bonds and get 90 per cent. of them in money for his own use. Changes in conditions are demanded, and changes in the financial system. Scholars and old leaders have proved incompetent to meet the growing needs.

President Polk who also spoke during the evening, gave a positive denial to the statement that he was an emissary of the southern democrats to lead the northern farmers to break away from the republican party; and said alliance men in the south were for alliance before party; that every step gained by the alliance in the south was almost in the face of the shotguns in the hands of democratic leaders. He declared the democrats in the south a unit against Grover Cleveland. Earlier in the day, President Butt, of the state alliance, delivered his annual address, the chief point of which was a declaration that the recent convention at Cincinnati, which determined to form a people's party, was not a farmers' convention and will not be recognized as such, but that when the Farmers' Alliance convention is held February 22 to put a national ticket in the field the alleged people's party will not be in it.

Secretary Moody's report showed that the last year had been one of great progress to the alliance. On June 3, 1890, there were 78 subordinate alliances, against 270 at the present time, showing an increase of 192 during the year. The semi-annual reports received show an average membership of 82.
Upon this unit of calculation Secretary Moody estimates that the order has an aggregate membership of 8,640 in the state.

Fire in an Illinois Town.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 10.—At Ridge Farm Monday night a disastrous fire destroyed the stores of William Hancy, Framer & Co., Jonathan Davis, A. P.
Saunders and Miss Holladay. Most of the goods were saved. The building occupied by the Ridge Farm bank was also destroyed. The books were saved and they are paying all demands. The loss will exceed $20,000.

Adrian Furniture Factory Burned.

ADRIAN, Mich., June 10.—The Adrian furniture factory burned Monday.
The fire started in a pile of shavings and waste in the engine room. The finishing department was saved. The loss above insurance is estimated at $20,000. The cause is not known, as the factory had been shut down for two or three days for repairs. One hundred and fifty men are thrown out of work.

law and forty-eight on diplomas from the Union college, both of them Chicago

TO-DAY'S ANNIVERSARIES

1190—Frederick Barbarossa, famous emperor of Germany and leader in the Crusades, drowned in the river Crusoe, Asia Minor.
 1603—First mint established in America: British government outlawed it, as coinage was an "exclusive prerogative of sovereignty."
 1776—Garrison's farewell at the Drury Lane theater, London.
 1803—The United States began a war against Tripoli.
 1803—Matthew Stimpson, orator, patriot and Methodist bishop, born in Ohio.
 1805—The transatlantic squadron left Plymouth, England, to lay the Atlantic cable, but failed.
 1861—Battle of Great Bethel, Va.; first regular defeat of Federalists, small but moral effect serious.
 1864—Eleven battles, large and small, in progress in seven different states, believed to have been the greatest number on any day of the war, but not the greatest number engaged. The most important was the disastrous defeat of Sturgis near Guntown, Miss., by Forrest.
 1880—The legislative assembly of Victoria appointed delegates to arrange for a federation of all the Australian colonies.

WHY I AM A PROTECTIONIST.

Because facts confront us, not theories. I have seen the wage-earners of Great Britain and continental Europe; know how they live; that they are homeless and landless, as far as ownership is concerned; that they are helpless and hopeless as to any brighter future for themselves or their children; that, in their scant wages there is no margin for misfortune and sickness, pauperism being the only refuge. I know that in this republican land the prudent, temperate and industrious worker is sure of an abundant reward; that his ambition to succeed seldom meets with failure; that he owns land and home; that luxuries to the European laborer are necessities to the American. How then can we compete with the former and maintain our superiority in these regards? Steam and electricity have made of the world one neighborhood, eliminating largely the protection once afforded by time, distance and transportation. There is one way only of solving this problem: Legislation for our own, a tariff for protection.

WM. P. FRYE,
 U. S. Senator from Maine.

WHAT WILL CANADA DO?

The course of political events in Canada, in the near future, will have uncommon interest for the people of the United States, and doubtless also for English statesmen. The death of Sir John Macdonald removes the one man who had the political tact to so administer affairs as to retard the growth of a sentiment hostile to the condition of colonial dependence, and whoever his successor may be he will find it extremely difficult to continue on the lines pursued by the dead premier. There was a great respect for Macdonald's ability which enabled him to exert an influence greater than that of any other man, or perhaps half a dozen men, in the Dominion. The Canadian people were rather proud of his political skill and his aggressive character, while he was their best example of sturdy loyalty. The conservative party has no leader who can quite fill his place, and it will hardly be possible for it to hold its strength against the more liberal tendency among the Canadian people.

BADGER STATE FORESTS LOOK SMALL.

Wisconsin pine lands are by no means losing their value, but this generation will live to see most of the lumber used in America manufactured in Oregon and Washington. Already large shipments are being made from the immense forests of the northwest as far east as Pennsylvania. One mill has recently taken orders for 5,000,000 shingles to be forwarded to Allegheny City, Pa., and another of 2,000,000 for Cleveland, O. The supply of lumber is almost inexhaustible, and the pine forests extend from Humboldt Bay, Cal., to Sitka, Alaska.

TAKE THEIR "STRAIGHT-ON"

Our democratic neighbor over on South River street is not satisfied with cheap sugar, cheaper than ever was known before in this country. It was generally supposed that democrats at least would be pleased with this section of the McKinley bill, and it is surprising that they are not. Late recruits, however, show a remarkably large per cent of that party who prefer straight drinks. These must be the ones who insist that the sugar bounty seekers of the McKinley bill is a tax.

The opinion of City attorney Doug, concerning the validity of the charter amendment, settles the question, perhaps, so far as the action of the city officials are concerned, unless some one carries the question into court. Many good citizens place little confidence in the opinion, as it comes from one of the chief movers in securing the uncalled for amendments.

Phoebe Cousins has been remarkably silent for weeks and it was supposed she had dropped the subject of the secretaryship of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair. This was a mistaken assumption. The lady was merely taking a rest to break out more ferociously later. It will be sad work for her opponents from this time forward.

Ministers of to-day are fast coming to the conclusion that truths to live by are far more useful to their people than dogmas to die by. This is why the great religious conventions spend less time in dry doctrinal discussions than in practical talks upon timely topics dealing with affairs as they exist.

The local democrats will now have a glorious opportunity to convince first ward taxpayers that the charter amendments taking away a large section of their taxable property, has nothing whatever to do with increasing their percentage of ward tax. The elements furnished a chance at the Meulver.

With the endorsement he has received in the Gordon Cumming trial, the prince of Wales could go in partnership with Al. Hankins in Chicago and do a good business. The prince may be looking for a situation some day and should bear this point in mind.

There were no broken necks among Rock county farmers to-day, caused by anxiety to get into the Georgia alliance.

It is said that Jerry Simpson wears silk stockings. His Rock county friends are aghast.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

Two Women Journalists.

MRS. WYLLIE. Mrs. Lottie Bell Wyllie and Mrs. Ephie E. Williams are two bright ladies of the "new south" who run a society paper at Atlanta. They write their own copy, make up the forms, mail the issues and do the general business work—all the work of the office indeed, except the typesetting. Mrs. Wyllie is something of a poet, and Mrs. Williams is a mistress of descriptive prose.

William Simpson, U. S. S. Brooklyn, Historian National Association of Naval Veterans, 1432 Wharton street, Philadelphia, Pa., says the first use of chain cables on the sides of vessels for protection during the late war was by Commodore Farragut's squadron on the Lower Mississippi in April, 1862. The efficiency of the device was demonstrated in the passage of Forts Jackson and St. Philip and the encounter with the Confederate ram, in which the writer participated, and it resulted in the capture of New Orleans. The device was suggested by Joseph E. Vantine, then connected with the U. S. S. Richmond, now a resident of New Castle, Del. Comrade Vantine should receive from Congress a handsome pension, or some expression of recognition for his valuable device. He was presented by the Navy Department some years ago with a medal for his bravery in the action above referred to, and at Mobile Bay. The device was the means of saving many of our vessels from total destruction in that engagement, and was also adopted by Capt. Winslow in his encounter with the Alabama on the coast of France two years later.

 ELIHU E. JACKSON,
 Gov. of Md. BEST

A military tribunal, the chief justice added, in substance, would judge if the proceedings which Gen. Williams and Lord Coleridge were concerned in formed an infraction of the rules and regulations governing the army, so with that point the jury need not trouble themselves. He, Lord Coleridge, did

ALL RIGHT FOR WALES TO PLAY.

What Lord Coleridge Thinks of the Hair Apprentice's Habits.

LONDON, June 10.—The result of the recent baccarat trial has created tremendous excitement which is in no wise detracted from by the more than reasonable probability that such a verdict would be rendered. This probability was not so strong until after Lord Chief Justice Coleridge's charge to the jury. The jury was out but a short time. As it was expected it would be, Lord Coleridge's summing up was all against Cumming. Scenes seldom before witnessed in an English court followed the announcement of the verdict. Luckily the prince of Wales was absent or he might have seen and heard another large installment of unpleasant and uncomplimentary things. Sentiment on the result is greatly divided.

Sir Edward Clarke's speech on Monday evidently incensed those against whom it was directed, and the proceedings had no more than opened this morning when Gen. Owen Williams rose and attempted to address the court on his own behalf. Justice Coleridge did not allow him to proceed, however, and Sir Edward Clarke resumed his summing up for the plaintiff, dealing especially with the evidence in behalf of Sir William and the question of damages. When he finished Justice Coleridge began his final summing up of the case. He did not spare Cumming. It was evident when he finished that the plaintiff had lost. The case was given to the jury and its verdict was rendered in fifteen minutes and with scarcely any discussion. The verdict was received by the spectators with slight hissing, which was quickly suppressed.

While the jury were out Sir William Gordon-Cumming showed no signs of nervousness, and sat quietly reading a letter. His friends, however, plainly betrayed their apprehensions. The defendants were also uneasy and anxious. When the verdict was announced Sir William was marvelously cool. He was really, to all outward appearance, the most uninterested spectator in court. Lord Middleton, his relative, who is reputed to have furnished the money for the prosecution, was quite the reverse. His face became scarlet, and he seemed hardly able to contain his exultation. Sir William, with arms folded, looked straight at the jury as if merely interested in studying their general make-up. Then Sir William Gordon-Cumming coolly donned his overcoat and hat, and strode away with Lord Middleton. Many pitying and sympathetic glances followed him.

As Sir William Gordon-Cumming entered his carriage the crowd raised a loud cheer. The effect of the verdict is that Sir William must be cashiered from the army and expelled from the clubs.

The hissing with which the gallery of the court saluted the verdict was repeated outside by an excited crowd thronging the corridors. The defendants on leaving the courtroom were surrounded by a mob and numbers of insulting allusions were addressed to them until within their carriages.

One of the jurymen has been interviewed, and says that from the moment they entered the jury room there was no doubt as to what their verdict would be. They were all for the defendants. Only one inclined toward the plaintiff, and he was not at all inclined prevent unanimity. Personally, all would have liked to find a way to vindicate Sir William, but the evidence was so strongly against him that they could not conscientiously decide in his favor.

Sir William Gordon-Cumming, in reply to an interviewer, said Tuesday night: "The verdict was not, of course, what I hoped for or expected, but you may say that I attribute it entirely to the biased and prejudiced summing up of the lord chief justice. I have been told on what I believe to be good authority that Lord Coleridge intimated to several people before the trial that he thought there was no doubt as to my guilt. It looked bad also that the prince of Wales, who was bitterly hostile to me, should lunch every day with the chief justice. Does anybody believe that I refrained from discussing the case? Last night I and my friends after listening to Sir Edward Clarke's speech thought the verdict must be in my favor, but after the judge's summing up I lost all hope."

"Do you intend to move for a new trial?" "I did think of it at first solely on the ground of the partiality of the judge's charge, but I don't think there is much chance of getting a new trial on that ground, so I shall probably give up the idea."

The division of public feeling upon the verdict will be largely a class division, the aristocratic circle siding with decision and approving Lord Coleridge's charge, while the mass of the public sympathize with Cumming and accuse the judge of gross partiality.

The popular reaction is largely due to Sir Edward Clarke's outspoken and fearless address. When he appeared in the lobby of the house of commons Tuesday night he was greeted with many congratulations, on the ground that he had done the best that could be done against the enormous difficulties. His friends fear that the increased distinction he has acquired in the trial will not commend him to the court. The line he took in his allusions to the prince of Wales would be attended with considerable social risk. The court is still an immense social power and could operate check the career of even Sir Edward Clarke.

Political issues of the affair promise a speedy development. A group of radicals in the house of commons, after a private conference, have decided to raise a discussion with special reference to the prince of Wales by motions upon the army estimates. Mr. Morley has already given notice that in committee on the estimates he will move a reduction of the salary of the commander in chief in order to raise a general debate on the case.

In his charge to the jury, referring to the prince of Wales' connection with the case, Lord Coleridge said: "People may say what they like but they are all very much pleased to have such guests as the prince of Wales, Lord Coventry and lord this and lord that in their houses (laughter). Then as to the position of the prince of Wales and as to the desire for scenery manifested by him, I have no doubt that he is a very much more than a gentleman. It must be remembered that such incidents were brought before a hard-judging world, not before the liberal and subservient world of the Tudors, but before a world whose sense and judgment had to be consulted. Surely it was not to be said against a man that under these circumstances he was anxious to keep the scandal quiet."

not know if the gentlemen just mentioned had or had not broken any military rule, but if they had done so, in the chief justice's opinion, they had done so with the best of motives. Lord Coleridge also said that he did not know why the jury had been informed that it was impossible for the names of the prince of Wales and Gen. Owen Williams to remain on the army list if the name of Sir William Gordon-Cumming was eliminated therefrom. This had nothing to do with the case. The jury's verdict would not have the slightest effect upon the military authorities in one way or the other so far as the gentlemen mentioned were concerned.

Lord Coleridge, referring to the criticism which has been heaped upon the prince of Wales since the affair first became public for the share he—the heir-apparent—had taken in the "Tranby Croft" episode, said in the main that England was not only a free country but a censorious one. The life of the prince of Wales, like that of every other person of rank, was continually made a subject of public comment. The prince of Wales, Lord Coleridge added, went through many boring ceremonies, and what if he did introduce baccarat into the great house? In the absence of any portion of the scandal being directly connected with the prince of Wales, Lord Coleridge could not imagine how any harm could be done to the monarchy by the prince or to anybody else, adding, significantly: "Though some people might have asked when they heard of the trouble at Tranby Croft: 'Why did he not read his Bible?'"

The lord chief justice wound up his charge to the jury with the following emphatic and not to be easily misinterpreted remark, after what he had already said: "I send you, gentlemen of the jury, to do your duty, and adopting the noble words of a great man to this occasion: 'When you pass your judgment upon Sir William Gordon-Cumming's honor I pray you recollect your own.'"

A Mexican Waterpout.
 ST. LOUIS, June 10.—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says that a waterpout burst near San Luis Paz, in the state of Guanajuato, Sunday, the water from which swept away many houses and cattle, uprooted trees, in fact, for a space of 3 miles, the width of the current, the country was completely devastated. It is not known how many lives have been lost. Hundreds of people are homeless and in a destitute condition.

Lost a Valuable Satchel.
 CHICAGO, June 10.—E. D. Thayer, president of the Brandon (Vt.) national bank, had $20,000 in notes and mortgages stolen from his satchel in a dock island sleeping car near this city. When nearing Chicago he went into the dining car, leaving a satchel containing the valuables on the seat. When he returned it was gone. The police have been informed of the robbery, but have little hope of recovering the property.

Death from Blood Poisoning.
 PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 10.—Dr. Griffith J. Thomas, a resident physician at Mercy hospital, died Tuesday morning from blood poisoning. Sunday he assisted at a surgical operation and the poison entered his system through a boil on his wrist. He was 29 years old and took first honors in his class at the Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia.

Excursion Tickets to Fond du Lac.
 The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company will on June 9, 10, 11 and 12, sell excursion tickets to Fond du Lac and return at the rate of one and one-third for the round trip on account of the fifth annual reunion of the Central Wisconsin Veteran Soldiers association. To get rid of a cold send to the druggist for a mixture containing sulphate of strychnine one hundred and fortieth of a grain; bi-sulphate of quinine, two grains; and Fowler's solution, five drops, to each dose. Take a dose once in two hours for three or four times, or until the throat begins to feel slightly dry. If this does not entirely relieve the symptoms, repeat the treatment the next day. Copy this prescription carefully, and use it with care as some of the ingredients are poisonous. There is no danger in using it if the directions are followed exactly. Before going to bed take a warm bath. The next morning sponge the body rapidly with tepid water, rubbing it hard until the blood circulates quickly and the skin is in a glow. Take more exercise than usual, and do not sit in a hot room with the windows shut. Mix a teaspoonful of cream tartar in a tumblerful of water and drink it during the day. If there is constipation take a gentle laxative, as a rhubarb pill. It is very important that all the avenues of the body for carrying off waste matter should be wide open.

Startling Political Methods Developed by the Picnic.

BABBITT FOLLOWS SIMPSON'S LEAD.

Big Gathering of Farmers at the up-River Breathing Spot Distinguished Speakers Held Over by the Unkindness of Railroad Men.

What will the craze for scanty apparel lead to?

Some one is liable to run a Fiji Islander for congress in the First district before long on the ground that he wears neither socks, coat nor any other apparel.

Congressman Babbitt has caught the clue, and when he strolled through Main street on his way to the picnic; he was in his shirt-sleeves, wiping the perspiration from his over-heated brow with a red bandana. Ex-Congressman Winans looked upon the scene from his office window, wondering inquiring what Clint was trying to work, out in his shirt-sleeves.

The picnic ground at Crystal Springs was thronged with people all the afternoon. All seemed much disappointed that the allied speakers did not arrive and a committee were kept at the depot waiting for them. They waited until the 3:15 train on the Northwestern pulled in and a keen-faced man, wearing gold rimmed spectacles, stepped off. Then the word went around that "Socksless" Simpson was in town. The congressman was expected to arrive at 3:55 o'clock this morning, but as indicated by the Gazette dispatches, he talked so long at La Crosse that he missed the night train, and for eight mortal hours the managers of the Patrons' picnic were kept on the ragged edge.

MANY CHANGES AT THE MYERS.

New Supplies and Fixtures Begun Secured as Rapidly as Possible.

Improvement at the Myers House will never cease. So say the proprietors, and it now looks as if they spoke the truth.

M. C. White, of Rockford, was in the city yesterday negotiating with Messrs. Miller & Padlock, for placing an improved fire and burglar proof safe of the Hall manufacture.

G. J. Conchais, of Chicago, was also here, talking about the splendid piano that he sells. They wanted a new piano at the hotel and Conchais fitted them out.

Beside all of this they are going to have new silverware. A. G. Burdett, representing the Meriden Britannia Company of Meriden, Connecticut, told them of the advantages of his line of goods. Between all the drummers who want to buy something and those who want to sell something the two proprietors are in danger of being talked to death. They are holding up pretty well though, and the new safe will come, the new piano will soon be sounding and the guests will have silverware that they can see their faces in.

WILL BUILD THE DITCH.

Marsh Creek Drain Ordered Constructed, New Bridge at Bradford.

All motions regarding the county poor farm buildings were tabled by the board to-day.

Several appropriations of money were made for the support of poor and indigent people in several towns. The county clerk was directed to advertise for bids to supply the county coal for the ensuing year. The special committee to whom was referred the Marsh creek ditch matter, reported in favor of constructing the ditch, the expense to be borne by the property benefited. The report was adopted.

The printing committee reported that the Gazette Printing Company had been awarded the county printing.

A new bridge was ordered in the town of Bradford over Turtle creek, the county paying a portion of cost as provided by law. The resolution was adopted authorizing an insurance of $35,000 on the court house, and instructing the committee to place such amounts on the other county buildings as in their judgment ought to be placed.

FIRST WARD PAYS FOR CULVERT.

And It Isn't as Big a Ward as It Once Was, Either.

The aldermen concluded the business before them last night in less than five minutes, said to be the shortest meeting on record at which any business was considered. Immediately after roll call Alderman Conger offered a resolution, that the culvert familiarly called the "Mole culvert," be repaired in a substantial manner by the street commissioner, under the direction of the aldermen of the First ward, and that a roadway for Mr. Mole's accommodation be constructed over the ditch. The resolution was adopted, and the council adjourned.

EXCURSIONISTS ON A "SPECIAL."

The excursion to Chicago to-morrow promises to be a large one, in fact one of the largest ever made up in this city, nearly four hundred people having signified their intention of going. The excursionists will all be compelled to go on a special excursion train, which will leave at 6:25.

On the last excursion passengers were taken on any train leaving on the day. Nearly fifty boarded the early vestibule, and took breakfast on the diner, and cleared the tables and larders of everything eatable before the regular passengers got a chance. Complaint was made at headquarters; hence the new arrangements.

THREW RICE AT GEORGE BATES.

The City Clerk Starts for Chicago Through a White Shower.

There was a frolicsome gathering of fun-makers at the Northwestern passenger depot last evening at 6:25 o'clock. It was a wedding party and had gathered at the depot to give their parting blessing to City Clerk George H. Bates and bride. The climax was reached when George and his bride entered the car and seated themselves by a window in full view of their friends occupying the platform.

"This is worse than election day," exclaimed the blushing groom, as the young people showered old shoes and white rice into the car window. Passengers formed a circle around the bride and groom, and the storm of rice and old shoes did not cease until the big mogul engine moved the train out of reach, and speeded the blushing couple on their way toward Chicago.

"Every cigar store and restaurant at Beloit has 'hard cider' and 'ginger ale' for sale," said a man who makes frequent visits to Beloit. "When you want whisky you ask for 'hard cider,' and if you want foaming Budweiser ask for 'ginger ale.' There is more liquor sold there than was disposed of during the time they had license. BIG STRING COMING.

Salisbury's Noted Trotters Leave California for Janesville.

GOSSIP OF NEXT WEEK'S RACES.

A Notable Contest Certain in the 2:24 Pacing Race—Horses Showed Their Mettle Yesterday—Janesville Meet. The Best on the Circuit.

Salisbury's string has left California and will arrive at Janesville in a day or two. This is one of the finest strings on the Pacific coast. Among them is Margaret S., 2:12, by Direct and a lot of other equally fast horses. This is the only string that will leave the coast for the east this season.

Janesville horsemen are looking forward with more than usual interest at the 2:24 pacing race which will be called Tuesday afternoon. There are three entries, Indianapolis Boy, Gypsy Goldust and President Wilkes. At Rockford yesterday Indianapolis Boy broke on the home stretch and was distanced. Gypsy Goldust and President Wilkes each had a heat, and when Indianapolis Boy dropped out they had the whole track to themselves. It took four heats to decide the race which was finally won by President Wilkes. Indianapolis Boy won the same race at Elgin easily. There is much speculation as to which horse will prove the winner in Janesville.

Maud had a walkaway in the 2:50 class at the Rockford meeting yesterday with Newsboy second and Kitty C. third. Maud and Kitty C. are both entered in the 2:50 class at the Janesville meeting.

The Janesville meeting promises to be much better than the Rockford races. The 2:50 class has fourteen entries, while the same race in Rockford had but five entries.

The Janesville track is in fine condition, and if the rain holds off the meeting will be a great success. But few horses that are entered in the races are here yet. Most of them will come to Janesville from Rockford. The Freeport races follow the Janesville meeting.

"Direb," a black horse owned by M. Salisbury of Pleasanton, California, is entered in the 2:35 pacing race. Direct was formerly a trotter, but last season he changed his gait and is now a pacer. He is a fast one, and will make him all hustle to win.

H. S. Woodruff has a horse in "Alessandro," a grey, that is showing good speed. In his work yesterday morning he went to the first half mile post in 1.10.

TRIBUTE TO BISHOP KNIGHT.

Resolutions Adopted—Delegates to Attend the Funeral—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of Christ church parish was held in the church last evening.

After prayer by the rector and the reading of the annual reports officers were elected as follows: Wardens—J. R. Pease, Dr. J. B. Whiting.

Vestrymen—Dr. C. L. Martin, G. H. Smith, G. K. Kolling, H. D. McKinney, B. B. Eldredge, R. M. Bostwick, F. F. Stevens, Wm. Elder.

Delegates to the Diocesan Council—J. B. Whiting, J. R. Pease, William Ruger, B. B. Eldredge.

After the election of officers the rector arose:

"Brethren," said he, "it is a sad duty I have to perform. I am to notify you of the great loss our church and diocese has sustained in that it has pleased our heavenly Father to call up higher, even unto his nearer presence, our beloved bishop, the Rt. Rev. Cyrus Frederick Knight, D. D., D. C. L. At his recent visit to this parish, to institute the rector and to pronounce a service of benediction upon our new rector, he not only strengthened and encouraged us by his words of good cheer, but also thoroughly established himself in our affections, even as we learned that to know him was to love him. As the bishop and shepherd of our souls he was spared to us but a short time and now he is not for God took him." His many virtues remain, however, and for many a day we shall delight to recall his preformed learning, his manly bearing, his large mindedness, his firmness and tact combined with nicety and delicacy of judgment. Indeed his episcopate, though short, has been a rich blessing to the diocese. To use the bishop's own words on the death of a brother, prelate: "It was surely the good ordering of Him, the head of the church, which placed this diocese in charge of a good man, of masterful mind and wisdom to foresee the future growth and needs of the flock over which he had been made shepherd. As a result of his prudent and far-reaching forethought, from being nurtured wisely and well, the church in this diocese is becoming strong and vigorous and progressive. But now that her bishop has been called to rest with the saints in light, the church feels the severity of the loss in that she has been deprived of a firm friend, a mighty counsellor, a wise shepherd, whose place will be most difficult to fill. But in the midst of our grief, let us offer up our prayers to God for her whose loss is indeed irreparable. May the Lord in His mercy comfort and sustain her in this her hour of trial; give her grace to bear her great affliction with the peace which the world cannot give, and which passeth all understanding."

It was voted that the remarks of the rector be adopted as the expression of the parish and that they be incorporated in the minutes of the meeting as such. Before adjourning it was made evident as the general expression of the meeting, that those present should consider themselves as delegates to represent the parish at the funeral of the bishop and that all others who can do so, be requested to attend the services.

The funeral will be held in the cathedral, Milwaukee, Thursday, at 11 a. m., and those desiring to attend should leave here on the 7 a. m. train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road.

BELOIT WOODMEN IN TOWN.

Arrangements for Attending the Big Rockford Picnic Completed.

A delegation of Modern Woodmen from the line city visited Florence camp last evening. Beloit is enthused over the Woodmen picnic at Rockford June 18, and came up here to enlist the cooperation of Florence camp. The Beloit camp have chartered a train and expect at least five hundred to go from there. They have engaged the Bower City Band to accompany them. At the meeting last night it was evident that a good number would go from Janesville. Any Woodman or others desiring to avail themselves of this excursion rate and witness a fine parade of at least ten thousand Woodmen, can secure tickets and information by calling on R. S. Fenton, C. H. H. Knapp or W. N. Snow.

This annual picnic of the Modern Woodmen of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin is a red letter day for members of the order.

There were fifteen hundred men in attendance at Elgin last year, and as many are expected at Rockford. Beloit is working hard to get it up the Rock to Beloit next year, and if they succeed, Janesville may hope to secure it the following year.

LIEUT. F. M. BOSTWICK AT HOME.

He Surprises Janesville Relatives By His Unexpected Appearance.

For twelve years Lieutenant F. M. Bostwick, United States navy, has been stationed in foreign cities. The surprise of the family, who supposed him to be at Vallejo, California, to see his firm darken the front door Monday evening can be imagined. So great was the surprise that at first they did not recognize him. The sudden visit was the result of a little scheme of his father, J. M. Bostwick, who is a little more than any man in Janesville, and this time he outdid himself.

Lieutenant Bostwick has visited almost every nook and cranny in both the old and new world. For sometime he was stationed at Japan, but lately has been on duty at Vallejo. He is accompanied on his eastern trip by his wife. Their visit in Janesville will be quite extended.

MAKE THE FOURTH A BIG DAY.

This Was the Declaration of the Mass Meeting Last Night.

Mayor St. John was elected chairman of the Fourth of July meeting last night. There was but one sentiment and that was in favor of a "big day." A resolution was unanimously adopted favoring a monster celebration on the Fourth, and a finance committee consisting of Fred Van Kirk, C. B. Conrad, M. Childs, James Bennett, N. B. Robinson and Robert Bostwick, was appointed to canvass for funds, and report to an adjourned meeting to be held in the council chamber on Friday evening, June 12.

SAVES HIS STEALINGS.

A Robber and Murderer Who Keeps a Bank Account.

A somewhat remarkable story was told by a bank president at the Buffalo club the other day, says the Buffalo Express. It was to the effect that about twenty thousand dollars was on deposit in a bank in Buffalo to the credit of a notorious cut-throat and train-robber.

"We have money in our bank," said the speaker, "belonging to a man who has probably committed fifteen or twenty murders in as many years."

The startling statement caused some surprise, but the name of the depositor was not mentioned. It was stated that no draft had been received on this account for a long time, but the depositor is believed to be pursuing his vocation of murderer and desperado in the wild and woolly west. The deposits, it was said, were always made closely following some train robbery, and it was morally certain that the depositor was concerned in the thefts.

"On one occasion," said the banker, "this man was at a southern town standing on the levee and about to take a boat down the river in order to escape arrest for a crime. An old acquaintance spoke to him, but being told he was a felon, and that he was being followed, the poor fellow was deliberately stabbed to the heart. That was during the war excitement, when such murders were of frequent occurrence. Hence this particular one attracted very little attention and no attempt was made to arrest the murderer. He figured in numerous crimes of a similar nature."

"Rest of the Talent."

A church society near Boston had given an entertainment for the benefit of one of its numerous charities, and at the end of the evening one of the gentlemen in charge was paying several people for their services in connection with the affair.

Finally he approached the boy who had blown the organ and said: "Well, Willie, how did you come out for your work this evening?"

The boy looked at him in genuine surprise.

"Why, Mr. W—," said he, "don't the rest of the talent give their services?"

Royal Permission.

Once there was a very proud khan of Tartary. He had not a house to dwell in; he lived in a tent. He subsisted by murder and robbery, and his dinner was of horseflesh and mare's milk. Yet every day none of his subjects dared to eat until they heard the following proclamation:

"The khan of Tartary has died! All other potentates, princes and great men of the earth may now have their dinner."—Harper's Young People.

Bright Hopes.

Circus Manager (to clown who has just been engaged)—Have you a family?

Clown—I've got a boy and a girl. The girl will never amount to much, but the boy has got genius. He will be an artist some day.

"What makes you think so?"

"He is only three years old, and already can tie his legs in a bowknot around his neck."—Texas Siftings.

A Crisis in Conville.

Disgruntled Yallerby—Yo's deceived me, sah! When I boomed yo' for alderman, sah, yo' promised me de white washin' ob de town hall. Remembah, sah, dat honesty am de best policy.

Alderman Blackie (offily)—Hu! Am an' yo' mus' know dat in diplomatic circles policy am alwus de best honesty.—Texas Siftings.

An Incomplete Itinerary.

Holt—So you ran after the nobility when you were in England, did you?

Higgins—Yes. All through Europe I followed my motto: "I lived in Rome do as the Romans do." I flirted in France, climbed in Switzerland, drank in Germany and posed in Italy.

Holt—Why didn't you go to Monte Carlo? People shoot themselves down there.—Judge.

TEMPLARS IN TOWN.

Session of the State Body Opened To-Day.

SHALL WOMEN BE ADMITTED?

The Question Discussed at Considerable Length. The Society Reported To Be in Flourishing Condition—Many New Members in Wisconsin.

There were about fifty delegates present this morning at 10 o'clock when Chief Templar D. B. Bailey, called the meeting of the Grand Temple of Honor to order. The roll called showed the grand officers present to be: Grand chief templar, D. B. Bailey; grand appletton; grand recorder A. J. Smith; of Amherst; grand vice templar, M. S. Pritchard; of Janesville; grand treasurer, A. H. Guernsey; of Amherst; grand chaplain, John F. Vallejo; of Appleton; grand usher, John Handyside; of Depeere; grand guardian, L. L. Bataugh; of Manitowoc; and grand sentinel, O. J. Barker, of Beloit.

The morning session was devoted almost wholly to the reception of reports of grand officers. The report of Chief Templar Bailey showed the order to be in a flourishing condition throughout the state. There has been an increase of over fifty per cent. in membership during the past year, and a half, and the reports of subordinate temples throughout the state all give glowing accounts of the new life which has taken hold of the order, new members being admitted by the scores.

Grand Treasurer Guernsey's report depicted a healthy financial showing. It is stated that the Grand Temple has never on more healthy footing than at present.

Shall the Women Come In.

The principal business to come before the grand temple at this session will be the consideration of the "amalgamation" amendment, submitted by the grand temple of the United States, which provides for the admission of ladies. This amendment is submitted to the temples of the different states, and requires the consent of a majority. The amendment is being favorably considered.

An Open Session Tonight.

An open session of the Grand Temple will be held this evening in Court Street church, good speakers being provided for the evening. At the conclusion of the open meeting the Grand Council of the Temple will hold its annual session.

The election of officers will probably not take place before to-morrow morning. The session will not end before sometime to-morrow.

Jottings from Johnston.

JOHNSTOWN, June 10.—Miss Benson, who has been spending a few months with her sister in Delavan, is the guest of Mrs. J. D. Spickerman.

The people listened to a very interesting discourse on Sunday last, delivered by Rev. Mr. Ozanne, of Bradford Center.

The rain storm of last week was the heaviest of the season, proving quite beneficial to barley and other crops, which were suffering from dry weather.

Charles Johnson, of Missouri, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cogswell.

J. L. Fletcher is visiting friends in Ft. Atkinson, where he will attend the commencement exercises of the high school.

Quite a number have finished setting tobacco.

A Libel On the Angeworm Club.

The other day The Gazette chronicled the fact that while John Kline was fishing at Afton a hungry tramp came along and ate all his worms. The Beloit Free Press now says that investigation convinces John that he was mistaken. The fellow wasn't a tramp. He was a member of the Janesville Angeworm Club, and knew a good worm when he saw it.

St. Agatha Guild.

A full attendance desired at the rectory to-morrow evening. Matters of utmost importance to be decided. Mrs. A. H. HARRINGTON, President.
